

Amerimax
ALUMAWOOD

The combination of the open lattice and solid cover truly accent the living space. The solid section of the roof is constructed with Snap-N-Lock™ insulated panels underneath decorative rafter tails and beautiful Southwest lattice accents.

RAIN, SHADE OR SHINE

The Santa Fe Roof Package Covers It All

Santa Fe Solid Roof Cover

For maximum protection from the elements, Snap-N-Lock™ Insulated Panels are run the entire length of the roof. Exposed rafter tails extend over the edge adding beauty and charm. There are a number of endcap designs to choose from.

Santa Fe with Open Lattice Cover

To provide shade, allow refreshing breezes to pass through, and maintain some cover, extend the solid roof only partway. The combination of the open lattice and solid roof truly accent the living space.

Add Beauty & Value.

Alumawood® lattice covers are truly a landscaping focal point and add value and beauty to any home. All components are constructed of an embossed aluminum with a baked enamel paint finish. The long-term cost of your structure is less than wood, because it won't burn, attract termites, crack, peel, warp, rot or need constant repainting. The Santa Fe is available in three different colors. All components are backed by a limited lifetime warranty and meet ICBO engineering requirements.

- Strong, long-lasting, low maintenance aluminum
- Richly textured wood-grain finish (roof panels also available in stucco embossed)
- Baked enamel finish is durable, has superior weatherability and requires little maintenance
- Attach to home or leave free-standing
- Solid cover can extend entire length of roof or partway
- Insulated roof panels give protection from elements
- 3-piece Posts give a custom wood look
- Custom designed and custom fit
- Beautiful Southwest lattice accents and exposed decorative rafter tails add value and beauty
- Virtually maintenance free
- Backed by a limited lifetime warranty

Your Contact
Information
Here